SUGGESTED PRAYER BURDENS

We may pray for our listening to the Lord's directions by using these verses and footnote:

1Kings19:11 And He said, Go out, and stand upon the mountain before Jehovah. And suddenly Jehovah passed by, and a great, strong wind rent the mountains and broke the rocks in pieces before Jehovah — Jehovah was not in the wind. And after the wind, an earthquake — Jehovah was not in the earthquake.

1Kings 19:12 And after the earthquake, a fire — Jehovah was not in the fire. And after the fire, ¹a gentle, quiet voice.

Footnote1

The fact that God spoke to Elijah in a gentle, quiet voice indicates that God was ushering Elijah into the New Testament age, in which God speaks to His people not by thundering but gently and quietly (cf. 1 John 2:27).

LETTERS FROM FTTA

Hi all,

This past weekend I took a trip with my gospel team to LA. One of our stops included the Getty which is sort of an art museum. I don't have much of an update. Just a reminder to pray for me while I am in Houston (the 11th to the 14th).

Carlos Salamanca

Dear saints,

Hope all of you are doing well in the Lord. We are now entering our 11th week in the training, the past couple of weeks have been pretty busy yet very enjoyable. We had the opportunity to serve in the ITERO weekend and it was very encouraging to see some of you here.

Recently, I've been enjoying the divine facts stated in 2 Timothy 1:6-7. In the midst of Paul's imprisonment, the decline of the churches in Asia, and Timothy's discouragement; Paul did not remind Timothy to put things back in order nor to find solutions to the problems, but he reminded him to fan his spirit into flame. All the time the enemy comes to us with lies- to discourage us and distract us from God's goal, but we need to remember that God has not given us a spirit of cowardice, but of power and of love and of sobermindedness. We have to realize that the enemy's strategy is to deadened our spirit, because he knows that as soon as we exercise our spirit he is finished. Just as fire needs oxygen, more so, we need the divine oxygen to fan our spirit into flame by calling on the Lord's name, for whoever calls upon the name of the Lord shall be saved (Rom. 10:13).

Praise the Lord we have the blood and we have His name!

Grace be with you all,
Adolfo Fernandez

Hello all,

We just finished our two weeks of midterms. I put in a lot of work studying throughout the term, so I mainly just reviewed my notes for classes and was able to do well. My hard work paid off!

How I'm doing physically:

I'm struggling with a little bit of low back pain. I've been working on core strengthening exercises and my posture while sitting in class. The pain is not debilitating because I have a very high pain tolerance, but it's definitely annoying. Please pray for me to exercise wisdom in caring for my physical body as it can definitely be a distraction.

How I'm doing psychologically:

It can get a little bit lonely here at the training. Even though I see people every day, if I don't make the effort to get to know people, it's easy to fall into "I know about you but I don't really know you." Please pray for me to build up lasting spiritual companionships in my last 10 weeks here at the training.

How I'm doing spiritually:

Recently, I've been getting distracted with worrying about the future and I can tell many of my fellow trainees are in the same boat. Please pray for me and all of the trainees to stay focused on the Lord and getting constituted with the truth while we are here in the training.

Also, please tell me how you are doing too. I'm tired of caring about me, myself, and I.

I need your prayers and I want to pray for some things other than me!

Your brother,
Christian Yu
